COTTON PRICES TOOK TUMBLE

GINNERS' REPORT CAUSED DECLINE OF $1.60 PER BALE.

New York, Dec. 8.—There was a decline of about $1.50 a bale in the cotton market today as a result of active liquidation following the census report showing 10,139,000 bales ginned to December 1. These figures were larger than expected and seemed to shake the confidence of bullish operators in government estimate of under 11,500,000 bales tomorrow.

The market closed at the lowest prices of the day with the various months showing net losses ranging from 23 to 31 points. During the early trading leading bulls reiterated their confidence in a bullish crop estimate and seemed to be giving the market some support, and there was also a little trade buying.

After having sold about 15 to 24 points net lower within half an hour after the publication of the report, there was a rally of several points. Later, however, offerings became heavier and in the last hour it looked as though some of the leading long lines were being reduced, imparting a nervous tone to the market and sending prices to lowest level of the day.

May sold at 14.85 or 55 points below the high record of the season, and about 13 points under the closing figures of Wednesday. Sentiment after the close was greatly unsettled and there was a wide divergence of opinion as to the probable showing of the government's estimate which is to be published at 1 p. m. tomorrow.

Estimates of the European crop are being lowered as a result of unfavorable weather during the last six weeks and private advices received in the local market today placed that yield at 750,000 bales.

FEW SEEK KNOWLEDGE BUT 1 IN 500 GO TO AGRICULTURAL SCHOOLS.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—Remarkable as it may seem, only one out of every 500 young people in the country enters an agricultural college to complete his education. Equally as strange is the fact that ninety-four out of every hundred children finish their education with the district school.

This wonderful state of affairs, when every effort is being put forth to educate the country child, is found to be the result after years of careful labor and painstaking investigation by experts in the department of agriculture.

Not long ago Secretary Wilson set John Hamilton and J. M. Stedman, both specialists in farmers' institute work, to the task of finding whether the government was making any headway in return for the thousands of dollars it is annually spending on the education of the child in the rural districts. These experts have just made their report.

In order to reach the 499 out of every 500 rural boys and girls who cannot go to an agricultural college, and yet in whom some attachment for an interest in rural life should be inculcated, there has developed quite generally a demand for the introduction into the rural schools of subjects that will educate in the direction of appreciation of rural life and its opportunities instead of confining the teaching, as hitherto, to studies that ignore the country and direct the occupations of the towns and cities.

The first effort to meet this demand was made by the town and city schools through the introduction of topics which later were embraced under the term "nature study." After the value and practicability of this new feature in education had been demonstrated by the towns and cities, rural school authorities became interested and a few of the more progressive introduced it into their course of study.

As a part of the course in education for children of public schools, a system of "clubs" has been organized in many sections by rural teachers and county officials of schools, intended to interest the pupils in country life and at the same time to be of service in preparing them for future work, whether that work be on the farm or in some other occupation or profession.

If, as statistics show, the education of the country child with few exceptions, ceases with the rural schools, it follows that the great body of young people of the country are left without special training that will give them practical acquaintance with the business of a farm.

The subjects that can be successfully studied in institutes for young people cover a wide range and may ultimately include the entire field of rural life. Since the institute is dealing with boys and girls who for the most part are without much experience, and while the subjects treated must be treated in a way to be intelligible to them, it by no means follows that because the pupils are not of full age the teaching and truths taught them must be correspondingly elementary. On the contrary, since the several subjects to be treated are almost wholly economic, involving difficult problems in farm practice and administration, it is of extreme importance that only the very best teachers that the institute authorities can secure shall be provided, in order that the instruction may be of the most reliable and useful character that science and experience can recommend.

All over the land the government, with liberal appropriations made by congress, is encouraging the young farmer to a better knowledge of the soil, of the conditions which will make his crop grow and those which will retard it, and, in a word, the whole science of farming from a practical standpoint. The young farmer thus secures both the theoretical and practical ends of the undertaking at the same time.

Sea Island Cotton Land For Sale—$15 per Acre

I have for sale in Tattnall county, just across the Bulloch county line, about fifteen hundred acres of very fine land. It will produce sea island cotton and other crops as abundantly as any soil in Bulloch county. It is in a body and is nicely located. It is within two or three miles of the railroad and is a splendid stock range. No improvements. Must be seen to be appreciated. If quickly sold can be purchased at $15 per acre. Would want part cash and give terms on balance.

BULLOCH MEN SLAIN BY NEGRO

DISPUTE AROSE OVER USE OF EMPTY FREIGHT CARS.

Cordele, Ga., Dec. 17.—Armed with a large calibre pistol, Tom McCrary, a negro, shot and instantly killed Clarence Beasley, a white man, and seriously wounded his brother at 1 o'clock today at Raines, five miles west of here, on the Albany Northern railroad. The tragedy occurred at a camp where the Beasley brothers, tie contractors, had their camp.

The sheriff and a posse are scouring the country for McCrary, who escaped. It is stated that the sheriff general has asked Governor Brown to offer a reward for him.

The news of the killing reached here at 2 o'clock.

The details, as definitely as can be ascertained, are that Beasley Brothers operate a camp at Raines, and that the negro, Tom McCrary, who was an employee of G. L. Scandrett, who also operates a tie camp, had a dispute with them over an empty car that had been placed at Raines to be loaded with ties, the Beasleys contending that the car was intended for them, and the negro, disputing this and contending that the car was intended for Scandrett.

After several hot words the negro pulled his gun and fired at the youngest Beasley, Clarence, killing him instantly. The elder Beasley then started to run to a negro house for a gun, when the negro shot him in the back and side, seriously if not fatally wounding him.

The negro then fled. Sheriff Ward was notified and immediately left for the scene of the tragedy, accompanied by a posse of citizens with bloodhounds, and every effort is being made to apprehend the negro.

It is stated that there were no witnesses except a small white boy, who was standing some distance away.

The community is much wrought over the affair. The remains of the dead man were taken to Warwick, where the Beasley brothers lived since moving to this section from Bulloch county a short time ago.

The negro has a bad reputation, having been tried several times in the city court for various criminal offenses, and if caught will no doubt be dealt with severely.

DR. COOK EXPLAINS MISTAKE.

SAYS HE BECAME CONFUSED IN TRAVELING OVER ICE.

New York, Dec. 16.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Brooklyn explorer, has sent word to his friends here that he will reappear next week following his self imposed exile of one year. Dr. Cook will arrive from Europe probably on next Wednesday. The doctor has confessed that he did not know whether he reached the north pole or not and in tomorrow's issue of Hampden's Magazine he tells of the mental and physical stress he labored under on his journey northward. Dr. Cook, speaking of the trip over the ice, says:

"There was little in the white waste about me to occupy my attention. Sometimes a spot on the horizon, or the twist of a dog's tail would fascinate me and hold my attention for many minutes."

"During this time form the early days of our journey, as I want to show, everything centered about the idea of the pole. Then to be wilder one, to set one laughing with silly amusement or to fill one with a sense of awe, there early began a series of mirages and optical illusions. The mental effect I find it difficult to analyze. Sometimes these exaggerated transformations had the effect of bringing far off objects apparently near to us. This often caused confusion in estimating distances."

"We made wide detours, at other times we had to retreat and find new passage. Perhaps in so doing I did become confused and over estimated my progress. It is that is so it is a fact neither. I am any one can settle now. Wherever I went, however, I maintain it was northward, and I did reach a spot which I believed to be the pole."

Good News from the Youth's Companion.

We have had to make the Youth's Companion larger to get in all the good things that Companion readers ought to have. The added amount would make four hundred pages of standard magazine size and print; but we have kept the price just the same—$1.75 for the fifty two weeks of 1911, and all the issues for the rest of this year free from the time you send in your subscription.

We would like to tell you what is in store for Companion readers next year. We cannot do it here, though; there is not enough room. But send us your address on a postal card, and we will send you the beautiful prospectus of the Companion for 1911, announcing many new features, together with sample copies of the paper.

We think you will agree, when you have read them, that there is no other paper that gives quite so much of such a high quality as the Companion.

The new subscriber receives a gift of the Companion's art calendar for 1911, reproducing in twelve colors and gold a beautiful water-color garden scene.

GRAY MULE IS CAUSE OF DEATH

THREE BROTHERS SHOOT EACH OTHER TO DEATH IN QUARREL.

Tallapoosa, Ga., Dec. 17.—As the result of a quarrel over the ownership of a small gray mule, Will Benefield, John Benefield and White Benefield, brothers and well-to-do farmers, who reside near Hopewell, Ala., just across the Georgia line, engaged in a duel with revolvers and all three were killed.

During the fight the mule, which was the innocent cause of the fight, was also killed.

It seems that the mule was in the possession of John Benefield, but Will Benefield claimed to be the owner, and had demanded the return of the animal. John Benefield refused to surrender the mule, alleging that his brother's claim was unjust.

A bitter quarrel between Will and John Benefield followed, and White Benefield, the older brother, tried to act as peacemaker and have the ownership of the mule submitted to arbitration.

John Benefield was willing, but Will Benefield said the mule was his property and he intended to have the animal.

Will Benefield tried to lead the mule away, and was warned to stop by his brother John. There was another exchange of bitter words, and then John and Will Benefield drew their revolvers and began firing at each other at close range. Both men emptied their revolvers, every shot taking effect.

When the smoke cleared away, John and Will Benefield and the mule were dead, and White Benefield, who had tried to stop the quarrel, was dying. He lived only a few minutes.

All three brothers were prominent in their section, and each of them leaves a wife and children.

While the dispute over the mule was the immediate cause of the tragedy, it is said that the real bitterness between John and Will Benefield was due to an alleged insult which Will Benefield is said to have offered John's wife.

Post Office Did Rushing Business in Money Orders.

Postmaster Blitch did a rushing money order business last week, and it looked for a time like that department was going to be forced out of business.

During last week more than a thousand money orders were purchased by the patrons of the office, and when business opened Monday morning the postmaster found that the supply of orders was only about twenty-five. Luckily, however, the morning mail brought in a new supply of blanks just in the nick of time to save embarrassment to the Christmas jug trade.

In this connection it is hardly necessary to add that 99 per cent of the money orders were for Christmas beverages.

Nothing has ever created more interest among the farmers than the prizes offered in this contest the present year. These prizes aggregated $136 in gold, and $100 went to the man who grew the most corn on an acre of land. The winner was J. B. Boyd, a young man living on B. L. Hendrix's place, and his yield was 94 bushels and a little upward. Many yields above 60 bushels were reported, and the spirit of enthusiasm prompts every contestant to believe he can do better next time.

We expect the 1911 contest will result in at least one hundred bushels yield.

BULLOCH TIMES

ESTABLISHED 1892.

Published Weekly By The
BULLOCH TIMES PUBLISHING CO.
B. S. TURNER, Editor and Manager.
SUBSCRIPTION, $1.00 PER YEAR.

Entered as second class matter March 22, 1905, at the postoffice at Statesboro, Ga., under the Act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 21, 1910.

The man who spends his time boasting of what he has done will not get anything else done to talk about.

When we see plumbers and other so-called per-hour men at work, we often wonder what they do for exercise.

There are still as big fish in the sea as have ever been caught—but none as big as the stories that have been told.

The only reason some men won't use a typewriter is because they can't hide mistakes of spelling when they do.

The society woman complains that she "really has nothing to wear"—and then dresses as if it was the truth.

As long as a woman thinks she is necessary to a man's happiness—and the man agrees with her—both will be happy.

All women are dreams, but some are the kind that make you feel, when you wake up, as if you had been kicked by a mule.

There are 80,000 people of the United States in jail and 80,000 more with marriage licenses that haven't been used yet.

Even if bigamy wasn't a crime under the code, a man would commit it ought to be locked up in a padded cell on suspicion.

When a man's wife is not jealous of him he is likely to begin to wonder if he hadn't better be a little more observing himself.

The man who sedulously guards the sanctity of his home has more religion than many who regularly warm the mourners' bench.

It is well to be on time, but the man who is always an hour ahead of his appointments may get the reputation of being a loafer.

The person who pays a pretty compliment to every person he meets gets a reputation for truth-telling that he does not deserve.

It is so damp at Panama that pianos are an impossibility. That is an advantage that even this enlightened country does not have.

To a man who talks in his sleep it must be aggravating to have a bed partner who snores so loud he can't hear what he is talking about.

Using an automobile is an easy and rapid way of getting about—and it goes just as fast in the direction of the poor house as in any other.

When Wellman and party returned from their attempted trip across the ocean, it was found that the cat also got out of the bag safely.

Singing is said to be excellent tonic for the morals of young people. Its effect on the neighbors will probably preserve the balance, however.

After marrying a man she had known but one day, a St. Louis bride now says he is a lunatic. She must have been "just crazy" to get married herself.

As long as men admire women for the hair they wear, you can't blame 'em for replenishing the supply when necessary from any available source.

In Germany a man who wrote a political poem was sent to prison for seven years. Crime is more adequately punished in Europe than in this country.

Potash Dispute With Germany.

The potash dispute between citizens of the United States and the German government is arousing intense interest just now in Washington and throughout the country. American fertilizer and chemical interests last year bought their potash supplies for seven years in advance from German mines, following which the imperial government imposed a penalty on them which practically doubled the contract price of their potash.

The contract price was $20 a ton, but the tax imposed by Germany will raise the cost of potash to the Americans who made these contracts to $42 a ton. It is estimated that the American farmers will lose several millions a year that might otherwise have been saved to them had the low-priced contracts made by our people with the mine owners in Germany been carried out.

The Germans have rejected all overtures made from this side, and have declined absolutely to make any proposal on their side. The next move is being awaited with interest. The dispute may be made a subject of diplomatic representation, though Germany has all along insisted it is purely a commercial problem, or it may go to the Hague for arbitration.

It is proposed to push the matter to a conclusion, and try in every way possible to secure a settlement of the controversy that will be of advantage to the American farmer. Any settlement that enables the big agricultural and chemical corporations who made the contracts to save money, but that which does not benefit the farmers who buy commercial fertilizers will not be allowed.

Every cotton farmer in the south uses commercial fertilizers, and it is estimated that this tax will take out of his pockets $6,000,000 a year which he might otherwise save. It seems that the tax is indefensible, and Germany in imposing it has aimed a direct blow at the American farmer.

Taft Appoints Democrats.

President Taft sent to the senate on Monday last the following nominations: For chief justice of the supreme court of the United States, Edward Douglas White, of Louisiana, now associate justice; for associate justices, Willis Van Devanter, of Wyoming, and Joseph Rucker Lamar, of Georgia.

Two of the places went to southern men and democrats. Justice White was immediately confirmed by the senate, and Judge Lamar was confirmed on Thursday.

Senators Terrell and Bacon and Representatives Howard, Brantley and Bartlett exerted themselves to the utmost in behalf of Judge Lamar. The latter's salary as an associate justice will be $12,500 a year. He has a life tenure of office, and his position in some respects will be higher than that of President of the United States.

The position of chief justice of the supreme court is one that President Taft would gladly take in exchange for his present trying office. He has always wanted a place on the bench, and did not want to be president. His is a case in which Fate played havoc with a big man's plans and purposes. Yet he, a republican, names a democrat and a former Confederate soldier to this coveted position.

Georgians are pleased beyond measure at the honor accorded to two democrats by President Taft, and the confirmation of the appointments by a republican senate.

Cord of Thanks.

I desire to express to my many friends, and those of my dear deceased wife, thanks for their many kindnesses shown during the recent sad hour of her fatal illness. I feel especially grateful to Mr. and Mrs. George Bland, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Parrish, Mr. Homer Lee, Mrs. A. W. Cook, Mrs. Nancy Kingery and Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Dekle; also to Rev. A. R. Richardson for his touching and truthful words spoken at the burial.

W. R. LEE.

Enemies in the Camp.

Mr. Editor: When I was in the Confederate army I learned many things in regard to the laws of war. If a soldier was found to be guilty of speaking or disseminating doctrine disparaging to the cause for which the army was fighting, he was taken up and court-martialed and, if found guilty, he was either shot or sent to prison as a prisoner of war. And sometimes the enemy would send spies into the camp disguised as friends. These spies would communicate to the enemy the condition, position and strength of the army, or any other information which would be advantageous to the enemy. These disguised enemies when discovered were tried and shot according to the laws of war. This was done for the safety of the army and its cause.

And then there were "bushwhackers." These were outsiders employed by the enemy, whose business it was to throw an occasional shot into the ranks of the army as they are passing while they are hid behind some rock or clump of bushes, thus terrorizing the army to some extent and inflicting wounds upon some soldier who is fighting for the good of these very bushwhackers. They, too, were taken up and shot, or hanged to the limb of a tree without trial, for they are worse than a spy. There never was an army but what has these kind of enemies to deal with—enemies in the camp and enemies in the bushes, and these enemies are employed by the enemy of the respective armies.

The church of God is an army waging war against the army of the devil, and she has enemies in the camp and in the bushes. These are people in the different organizations of the church who are disseminating ideas detrimental to the cause of religion and of God. They are employed by the great enemy of the church. They may not know it, but they are put there by the enemy as stumbling blocks. They often speak evil of preachers and leaders of the church, thereby putting a stumbling block in the way of progress. They are enemies in the camp. And sometimes some preachers do their best to unchurch everything but their own sect. They are enemies of God and His church. If an officer were to throw his battery upon another portion of the army upon the idea that his was the only command authorized to fight the enemy, he would immediately be shot, even without a court-martial. I do not say that such preachers should be shot, but I do say that they should put to the proof their own belief and be made to earn their living that way. Some say let them alone, that God will execute justice upon them at the proper time, for it is written: "Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord." Yes, we have enemies in the camp and enemies in the bushes, not only in religious circles, but in politics. The last political campaign was a nasty one—the worst that our state has ever had. It is said that some county candidates gained their election by the use of whiskey. If this be true, they are enemies in the camp, and a man who will sell his vote for whiskey is an enemy to his party and to good government. And a man who will run or allow his name used as an independent candidate against the regular nominee is an enemy in the camp. We boast of having disfranchised the negro, but there are lots of white men that should be disfranchised. I will not mention names, but the public know who they are.

Respectfully,
B. W. DARSLEY.

ANNUAL VALUE PEANUT CROP.

$36,000,000 A YEAR IS GIVEN AS APPROXIMATE VALUE.

The person who buys a nickel's worth of peanuts to munch at the ball game, to feed to the squirrels in the park, or to gladden the hearts of children at home, scarcely realizes that he has contributed to an industry that last year formed a million dollar crop, and which, placed on the market in various forms, reached the enormous sum of $36,000,000, says the Washington Star. But it is a fact.

This little seductive nut—a resolution to "eat just one"—is soon forgotten—whose birthplace is America, was until comparatively recently, unappreciated either as to the money in them, or as a really nutritious product. Today the peanut plays an important part in pleasure, from the swell dinner party to the ever-present democracy of a circus, ball game or picnic. After all, what is a ball game, a picnic or a circus without the peanut accompaniment?

By far the largest part of the crop is consumed from the peanut stand, the little whistle sign of the roaster being the signal for the average youngster to suggest to Dad or Ma that some of them would be very acceptable, and the paternal or maternal parent's willingness—nine times out of ten—to invest. Yet there are millions of bushels that go to the fattening of hogs all through the south, the feeding of poultry, while the vines, often cured as hay, feed thousands of head of cattle, and even old Mother Earth is nourished by the roots of the plant, which furnishes nitrogen to it from the air.

The result of all this is that scientists claim that the peanut, which in the past was not very highly regarded, is the only food staple that will at once nourish man, beast, bird and the field. It is the most nutritious of the entire nut family, rich in tissue building properties—containing glucose and carbohydrates—and is the cheapest.

City and County

The tax books closed yesterday. Tax Collector Allen experienced a rush during the entire day.

Mr. G. S. Blackburn, a former citizen of Statesboro, now located at St. Mary's, visited the city on business during the week.

Misses Lucy and Georgia Blitch, who have been away to school during the fall, are enjoying a visit during the holidays.

L. Simmons is just completing a neat little cottage in West Statesboro, the work being done by Contractor Josh Campbell.

Mr. Paul Simmons and his sister, Miss Nannie, are at home from school for the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Simmons.

170 acres good pine land eight miles west of Statesboro and four miles northeast of Pulaski for sale at $15 per acre. One-third cash; balance 1 and 2 years. G. H. Williams, Dublin, Ga.

Messrs. J. K. Forbes and L. S. Tyler, of Hubert, were visitors to our office yesterday, and expressed appreciation of the Times in a most acceptable manner.

Contractor Josh Campbell has begun the construction of a handsome eight-room cottage on Zetter-ower avenue for Miss Leah Lester, which she will have for rent.

Mr. F. E. Field returned Thursday from a ten-days' visit to Clearwater, Fla., where he went in company with Mr. J. D. Blitch and family, who will spend the winter there.

Mr. D. M. Beasley, son of G. R. Beasley, of the 48th district, after a stay of two years in Alabama, where he has been engaged in the naval stores business, has returned to Bulloch to make his future home. He will be located at Brooklet.

Rev. W. K. Dennis, the new pastor of the Methodist church, arrived last Saturday, and filled his first appointment Sunday. He returned the first of the week to Wrightsville for his family, who did not accompany him on his first trip.

170 acres good pine land eight miles west of Statesboro and four miles northeast of Pulaski for sale at $15 per acre. One-third cash; balance 1 and 2 years. G. H. Williams, Dublin, Ga.

Mr. J. R. Roach, who has been in attendance upon a law school at Lebanon, Tenn., during the fall, returned home Saturday to spend the holidays. He expects to finish his course next spring, and will return to Bulloch for the practice of law.

Statesboro Institute closed yesterday for two weeks' Christmas holiday, to open on January 4th for the spring term. The Christmas spirit began with the school children by the bestowal of gifts to their teachers yesterday, most of whom leave today to spend their vacation at their homes in other parts of the state.

The Best in the Drug Line

When you have to buy Drugs, you want the best—purest and freshest, and that kind is our specialty.

With a choice line of Drugs of all kinds, we guarantee accuracy and care in the compounding of prescriptions. We will appreciate the drug patronage of the people of Statesboro and Bulloch county. We want you to get habit of coming or sending to us for articles you need in our line, and if pure goods, low prices and constant attention and civility will do so, we will make you our customers and friends. Our stock includes all the leading brands of Patent Medicines to be had at any drug store, no matter where else you may see it advertised for sale. We feel a pride in our assortment of druggists' sundries—Perfumery, Extracts, Soaps, Powders, Combs, Brushes—the thousand and one things properly carried in a drug store.

A Neat Little Gift is the graduated medicine glass we are giving away to a thousand of our customers with each dollar purchase. You will find it a great convenience. Call and get one.

Our New Quarters.

Our friends are reminded that the Times will be found in its new quarters upstairs over the First National Bank. We will be glad to have you call upon us when you come to town.

Mill Ray Lodge Election. At the annual election of officers for Mill Ray Lodge, No. 389, F. & A. M., held on Friday, December 10th, the following were elected: Ira S. Perkins, W. M. A. W. Stewart, S. W. Geo. P. Grooms, J. W. I. V. Simmons, Treasurer. W. A. Waters, Secretary.

Missionary Society. The Woman's Missionary Society of the Statesboro Baptist church will hold its regular monthly meeting at 2:30 o'clock next Thursday afternoon.

All of the women of the church are requested to be present.

Miss Hughes Entertains. The "N. B. F." Club was delightfully entertained by Miss Anna Hughes on Friday afternoon. A musical contest was engaged in, which proved most interesting. A hand-painted "candy box" was won by Miss Agnes Parker for highest score. Miss Hughes was assisted in entertaining by Miss Lee. Dainty refreshments were served. Guests present were Misses Brannen, Lee, Holland, Williams, Franklin, Parker, Husk, McDougall and Mesdames Johnson, Johnson, Jr., Paul, Franklin, Don Brannen, James Moore and Barfield.

Cumming Made Fire Chief. C. M. Cumming has been appointed chief of the Statesboro fire department to succeed B. P. Maull, who resigned.

This action was taken at a called meeting of the city council held Monday night. At the same meeting the matter reported to have been in dispute regarding the distribution of funds arising from the recent carnival, was amicably adjusted. It is said that there was never any serious disagreement, only a misunderstanding, and that an agreement was readily reached in the matter.

Good Horses and Mules.

You will find L. H. Suddath at the Simmons old stand with plenty of good horses and mules. Thank you for past kindness, he heartily solicits your future patronage.

Will Have Banquet

For Sunday-School.

Superintendent Booth, of the Methodist Sunday-school, has arranged a unique Christmas entertainment for the pupils of his school, in a banquet to be held on Monday evening after Christmas.

Room has been secured in the new Fields store on East Main street, near the Jaekel Hotel, and tables will be spread for the entire membership of the school and their guests. The enrollment of the school is approximately 200, and it is expected that the banquet will be a drawing card, as it certainly will be unique.

Ogeechee Lodge Elects Officers. Ogeechee Lodge F. & A. M. held their annual election of officers last evening, the following being elected for the ensuing year: A. F. Morris, W. M. S. A. Prosser, S. W. S. A. Rogers, S. W. W. T. Hughes, Treasurer. T. A. Waters, Tyler. B. A. Trappnell, S. D. E. R. Collins, J. D. J. E. Brannen, S. S. R. Barnes, J. S. Rev. J. F. Eden, Chaplain.

Five Bales on Five Acres.

Five bales of sea island cotton on five acres of land is pretty good farming, but that was what C. R. Herrington did during the past year. Mr. Herrington is a stirring farmer, who goes about his work quietly, and knows how to make every lick count. He doesn't believe in making a very big show, but when it comes to thorough work, he understands farming to a nicety.

Bulloch county is proud to have such farmers in her borders, and they are the men who help to sustain her reputation.

Offices for Rent.

Desirable offices over the First National Bank; will be remodeled to suit tenant. Can make three nice offices, or will fix up for sleeping apartments.

Join the Bulloch Corn Club

As seventy-two of our friends joined with us in a little corn contest in 1910, and most of them seem to want to try the trick again, we have this to say:

We would like to see at least a hundred of our Bulloch farmers join themselves into a permanent organization, elect their own officers, adopt their own rules and regulations, and called the "Bulloch Corn Club," or any other appropriate name. We offer the following prizes to members of the club in 1911:

Best acre of Corn	$100
Second best	40
Third best	20
Fourth best	5
Fifth best	2.50
Sixth best	1

Above prizes to be paid in gold when called for by the club. If you want to join this club, call on us for application blank.

BOOKER WASHINGTON'S ADVICE

TELLS NEGROES NOT TO WEAR FIVE DOLLAR HATS ON FIFTY CENT HEADS.

Chicago, December 18.—"Save your money. Put it into real estate and savings banks. Avoid loud checked suits and above all do not wear a five dollar hat on a fifty cent head." This was the advice given by Booker T. Washington before the members of the Ebenezer Colored Baptist church of Evanston yesterday. "Let me advise the colored people of the United States to save their money," he said. "When a man works for wages he works only six days a week, but when he has a savings account the money works seven days a week, and that day and night. I never saw a Christian yet who objected to allowing his money to draw interest on the Sabbath day."

"The condition of the American negro, as compared with that of the peasant of the southern European countries, is one of luxury. I do not believe that we appreciate the advantages that are at our hands. Discontent should be avoided, and every effort bent to advancing the condition of the colored American citizens."

An Off Year in Politics? Well, Not So Dull.

A contributor to the Swainsboro Forest-Blade predicts that there will be plenty doing in state politics next year. Hear him:

"Next year is supposed to be an off year in Georgia politics. But there is a chance for it to be equally as hot as the one which will soon close. Beyond all question there is a United States senator to elect and probably another governor. In all probability Governor-Elect Hoke Smith will offer for the senate. Those who know him best know that the senate is his ambition. The writer does not think that the democratic executive committee will call a primary.

"But suppose it should and suppose Hoke Smith should enter it against Mr. Terrell. There would be one race for you and a hair-raiser. Suppose also Hoke should win, which is a very liberal supposition. There's a beautiful scramble then and there for the governorship. A scramble! Well, I should say so. With such men as Candler of DeKalb, Slaton of Fulton, Billie Hardwick and our own Dixie Flyer, Charlie Edwards, all looking and longing for a chance to go after the plum, you would witness a race that would equal in enthusiasm a Yale-Harvard foot ball game. The writer, however, is going to hazard a guess (for that's the best any of 'em could do right now) that the legislature alone will be called upon to elect a senator; that it will elect Hoke Smith, and that then we will have a hair raising race for governor with some of the above named gentlemen and probably others in it."

Georgia State Normal A Great School.

The U. S. Commissioner of Education publishes the State Normal School among the best fifteen normal schools in 197 such schools in the United States.

Five hundred and eleven students have been registered this fall in the State Normal School, Athens, with one hundred and thirty in the Muscogee Elementary School, making a total enrollment of six hundred and forty-one. There is room in the dormitories for only three hundred and sixty students, therefore more than eighty students are boarding in the homes of the immediate neighborhood.

The enrollment this year represents one hundred and fourteen counties of the state.

The counties most largely represented are as follows: Baldwin, 4; Bulloch, 9; Burke, 5; Chatham, 6; Screven, 5; Tattnall, 6; Thomas, 4; Quitman, 4; Houston, 6; Pulaski, Sumter, 7; Carroll, 4; Coweta, 9; Meriwether, 5; Muscogee, 6; Fulton, 13; Newton, 7; Walton, 8; Fayette, 4; Henry, 6; Pike, 5; Spalding, 7; Cobb, 4; Floyd, 4; Whitfield, 4; Elbert, 8; Franklin, 10; Greene, 10; Jasper, 8; Madison, 4; Morgan, 12; Oconee, 9; Oglethorpe, 9; Putnam, 4; Wilkes, 11; Dawson, 4; Gwinnett, 7; Hall, Jackson, 14; Milton, 5; Stephens, 7; Columbia, 4; Hancock, 5; Lincoln, 10; Richmond, 4; Telfair, 4.

On January 2d of every year more than a hundred such teachers come in for the common school reviews. It will be necessary this year for such applicants to apply well in advance of their coming on account of the crowd.

No other school in this or any other state keeps closer to the common school problem than this school.

The authorities of the school have made it possible for seven worthy students to get an education by working their way through wholly or in part. Ten students of the school are kept here with their expenses paid upon scholarships created by private beneficence, the orphan asylums of the state, the club women, or the Daughters of the Confederacy. During the last ten years the friends of the school have spent nearly $36,000 in helping along worthy students in this school.

No tuition, of course, is charged Georgia students. The expense of board in the dormitory is $100 for the full session. And yet for these small charges the young people of Georgia have the advantage of instruction in seventeen different departments. The new library has, of course, immensely increased the culture value of the school.

A little census taken the other morning shows that three hundred and forty-one students brought their Bibles with them into the school. The hundred and fifty-two of the students have volunteered to take the four-year course in Bible studies. Several devoted teachers of the faculty are doing this work from week to week.

Brief twilight prayer services have been held in the dormitories of the school without a break for sixteen years.

Five hundred and twenty-four graduates of the school are teaching in a hundred and nine counties of the state and eight thousand two hundred and sixteen graduates and undergraduates are teaching in every county and almost every community of the state. The heart and hope of school education in Georgia is the State Normal School.

Brooklet Masons Will Have Public Recital.

How Old People May Prolong Their Lives

At advanced age the organs act more slowly than in youth. Circulation becomes poor, blood thin and watery, appetite fitful, and digestion weak. This condition leaves the system open to disease such as Coughs, Colds, Grippe, Pneumonia, Rheumatism, etc.

VINOL is the greatest health creator and body builder we know of for old people, as it supplies the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissue and replace weakness with strength.

HERE IS THE PROOF. A case is recorded in Albany, N. Y., of a woman who felt she was breaking down by age and was doomed to the weak and feeble condition of old people. She had no strength and the slightest exertion tired her, but VINOL made her well and strong, and she states that she feels ten years younger than she did before taking VINOL.

We ask every aged person in this neighborhood to try a bottle of VINOL with the understanding that we will return their money if it does not prove beneficial.

Trustee's Sale.

GEORGIA—BULLOCH COUNTY.

Under and by virtue of a power to nominate and appoint a sole trustee to sell and convey certain property hereinafter described, contained in a deed dated Jan. 12th, 1906, and executed by Lula A. Forbes to A. Leffler Company, its successors and assigns, and the said A. Leffler Company having assigned said deed to C. M. Martin, and the said C. M. Martin having nominated and appointed Remer Proctor trustee for the purpose of selling and conveying the lands and tenements described below, and the said Remer Proctor having accepted said trust, now therefore, I, the said Remer Proctor, as trustee as aforesaid, will, on the first Tuesday in January, 1911, between the legal hours of sale, before the court house door of said county, sell at public outcry, to the highest bidder for cash, the following property, to-wit: One certain town lot situate, lying and being in the town of Hubert, in the county of Bulloch and state of Georgia, and in the 47th G. M. district, containing one half of one acre, more or less, and being bounded on all sides by lands of E. H. Robertson, and being the lot on which is erected the store house and also the dwelling house of James G. Forbes and Lula A. Forbes, for the purpose of paying a certain promissory note for the sum of $777.64, executed and delivered by L. A. Forbes & Co. on June the 11th, 1907, and due Sept. 15th, after date, and stipulating for interest from date at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, and for 10 per cent attorney's fees, together with the cost of this proceeding, as required by said deed. A deed to the purchaser will be made by undersigned.

This 8th day of December, 1910. REMER PROCTOR, Trustee.
